

Children under 12 Ride FREE on Friday Afternoons!

Here's a treat for the kids...

Plan a child-friendly round-trip ride on the ferry with time to eat and explore San Francisco

This is a great outing for families, or groups of children under 12 accompanied by adults. Plan a three-hour adventure—a perfect time span for youngsters.

Board the Ferry at the Harbor Bay Ferry Terminal at 5:05—the kids will love it—and debark at the SF Ferry Terminal at 5:30. This will give you two hours to eat and explore the San Francisco Ferry Building Marketplace and the nearby pier. Visit the craft fairs on Market Street and stroll along the Embarcadero toward the ballpark. There are plenty of restaurants at the Ferry Building or dine at the Embarcadero Plaza. Return on the 7:35 boat and watch the beautiful San Francisco skyline from the aft deck as you head for home port.

For families of commuters, it's a great way for the kids to share your daily trip. You can meet them and your partner or child caregiver at the Ferry Terminal, show them around and all ride back together.

For school and play groups, it is a wonderful adventure to plan, and the adults accompanying the kids can make it educational, as well as fun, by pointing out points of interest along the way.
